Registration Brochure

31 July – 6 August 1999, Stockholm, Sweden

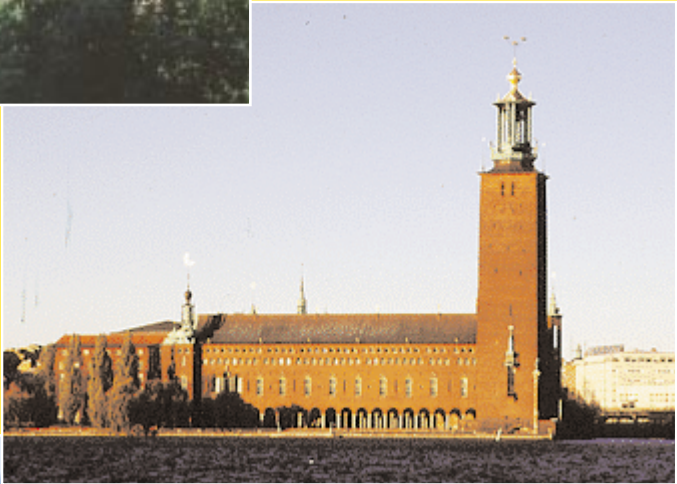

Sponsored by IJCAI and the Scandinavian AI Societies

The Conference Installation Norra Latin was earlier a high school. This elegantly renovated school house is now one of Sweden's top conference installations. This is where the major part of the IJCAI-99 conference will take place.

LARS HANSSON

Stockholm's City Hall is located in the center of town on the shore of Lake Mälaren. City Hall is where Stockholm's political leadership work. Here you can also find large, exclusive reception rooms. The largest are "Blå Hallen" (The Blue Lounge) and "Gyllene Salen" (The Golden Room). City Hall was built during 1911-1923. IJCAI participants are invited to attend a reception in Blå Hallen on August 2.

JAN ASPLUND

A view of the Vaxholm Fortress and the island Vaxholmen in the inner part of the Stockholm Archipelago. One of the two sea routes to Stockholm is by way of Vaxholmen, which is why in ancient days, it was of great importance for the defense of Stockholm. The fortress tower was built as early as 1560. If you want to experience the water way into Stockholm, a part of Stockholms history as well as have an exciting evening, register for the IJCAI-99 Dinner August 4. It will be held at the Vaxholm Fortress.
